MANAGER WADE ELLIOTT

Hello again Robins fans and welcome to the Completely-Suzuki Stadium for our Carabao Cup first round match against Birmingham City. I'd like to take the opportunity to welcome everyone associated with my former club to Cheltenham this evening.

It was great to see so many of you following us on Saturday afternoon at Shrewsbury and it was great to be back in competitive action. There's just that different edge to pre-season. A crowd, points on the line, it's so much more meaningful.

Obviously it wasn't the result we wanted but we take the positives out of it. For the last 20 or 30 minutes of the game we hit the level we are capable of. Now we need to make sure we replicate that more often than not.

And you know the team. They are such a good and honest bunch and they're so desperate to do well and put on a good performance. We just invited a bit too much pressure but when we took the shackles off we showed what we can do.

We welcome John and his Birmingham side to Cheltenham this evening as we did a few weeks ago, but this time it'll be different. We can take a couple of things from our pre-season match but they'll be making changes.

But it's a cup game there's something on it this time. It'll be a tough game but there will be a shock somewhere, so why not us?

Thank you again for your continued support and enjoy tonight's game.

OLI

HAMMOND

Cheltenham Town have a new youngster on their hands in Oli Hammond after the Nottingham Forest academy player arrived on August 1st.

After being at Forest since he was eight and making his senior debut in 2021, the young midfielder is making his first foray into regular senior football and has found a home in Cheltenham Town.

"It has been a long time coming," started Hammond. "It is vital for my progression, and it is something I have been wanting to do for a while now. This is the perfect place to do it for me and hopefully I can help the club as much as they can help me."

Hammond spent last season in Nottingham Forest's Under 21s squad which featured a run to the semi-finals of the Premier League Cup which helped catch Wade Elliott's eye.

"They've been really positive. Speaking to him [Elliott] he knows a bit about my game and has watched me previously and obviously I'm doing the right thing so just continue what I'm doing at Forest here and pushing on and showing everyone what I can do."

Despite plying his trade as a centre midfielder, Hammond isn't shy on making sure he can have an impact on matters at both ends of the pitch, which has seen him score on the international stage for Wales U21s.

"With the energy I have, I feel I can provide in both boxes," admitted Hammond. "Getting forward and getting on the end of crosses is definitely a part of my game that is important to me and a team. Goals are what counts."

The hardworking nature of the Welsh international translates into his ambitions for the new season and is keen to leave a lasting mark on the Robins during his loan spell.

"I can't wait to show everyone what I can do and what the team are working on. It has been a good pre-season."

BIRMINGHAM CITY

NICKNAME
Blues

MANAGER
John Eustace

STADIUM
St Andrews

CAPACITY

STAR PLAYER
Krystian Bielik

2022/23
17th, Championship

It's a new dawn at Birmingham City Football Club with the Blues having been taken over by new owners, ending a long saga of troubles at St Andrews. With new chairman Thomas Wagner, CEO Gary Cook and a certain NFL legend in Tom Brady behind the change at the club, there's reason to be excited for Blues fans.

City finished in 17th at the close of the 2022/23 Championship season, a finish that would've felt very familiar for the Second City club. In fact, the Blues haven't finished in the top half of the Championship since the 2015/16 season, but under new leadership with a new direction and a brighter future, could that be about to change.

John Eustace's side opened their 2023/24 Championship campaign with a 1-1 draw away to Swansea City, new signing Siriki Dembele netting his first goal since his summer move. It's a good result to kick-off their campaign ahead of their return to the second city next weekend to host Leeds United.

The Blues are no strangers to the Completely-Suzuki Stadium, having made the trip to Gloucestershire just a few weeks ago in pre-season. And it was the Blues who ran out 3-2 winners despite the Robins going ahead twice, courtesy of Ellis Chapman and George Lloyd goals.

Birmingham have been busy in the transfer market this Summer and have brought in some key players. Two of which are Dion Sanderson and Krystian Bielik. The pair have been on loan on two different occasions from Wolves and Derby County respectively over the past few seasons but have now both committed permanently to the club. The signings of the previously mentioned Dembele and Ethan Laird are also very exciting for Blues fans, as is the acquisition of Koji Miyoshi, who joined from Belgian outfit Royal Antwerp.

There will certainly be a sense of excitement around the club as they head into a new era in Birmingham as Eustace looks to build on his first full campaign. The Blues however arrive at the Completely-Suzuki Stadium having failed to make it past the first round of the Carabao Cup in five of the last seven years.

#HER GAME

IT'S #HERGAMETO

In 2021, a group of passionate women fans felt mobilised to start a campaign called #HerGameToo.

The campaign is committed to fostering an ethos in football where women are welcomed and respected equally and can be confident sharing their opinions about football online and in person without fear of sexist abuse. This evening, we introduce two new advocates to the cause.

Cheltenham Town's Her Game Too ambassador, Kelly-Marie Selby, tells us: "Growing up loving football, it was so sad that not only did girls not have the opportunities that boys had to further their abilities, but trying to voice my opinion was almost impossible. As soon as I tried to express any views I was told I was a girl, I didn't know anything about football, and I should just concentrate on make up and being a girl.

"The younger me shied away from fighting, but as I got older, I knew this wasn't right and that I should be allowed to join in on conversations about football. So when the opportunity came to become an ambassador of an amazing campaign to empower women to have a voice without fear, I put myself forward. Over the past few months I've been able to go and watch football games with Cheltenham, and this has now grown with two incredible ladies coming on board - Mary Stone and Taz Scales.

"Together, we want to help create an environment at The Completely-Suzuki Stadium where women of all ages can feel welcome and safe without fear of sexism and misogyny, knowing there are avenues to report such incidents."

Introducing themselves, Taz explained: "53 years ago the ban of woman playing football was finally lifted, and now we are seeing woman on the big screens influencing the new generation. Her Game Too brings awareness to the struggles woman players and fans may face and how we can eliminate it. I am so excited to work alongside Her Game Too to raise more awareness and inspire the younger generations."

Alongside Taz and Kelly-Marie, Mary reflected on what the campaign is for her: "Her Game Too means being able to go and watch football games wherever I want, whenever I want, without being made uncomfortable. In the short space of time I've been involved with this group, I've connected with so many female football friends, like Kelly and Taz, and sharing our experiences together shows exactly why we're doing what we're doing.

"I'd encourage everyone to find a way to get involved with Her Game Too, it could be through doing something so simple as wearing our badge or taking a more front facing role in tackling sexism in football."
